ONGOING PARISH ACTIVITIES

Mothers of Young Children Summer Schedule

Parents and caregivers of children ages 0-5 are welcome to join us for our weekly play group. We will be meeting at various local parks this summer. Please contact Elise Parisi at moyc@sksparish.org or 484-885-0130 for more information. Also, please feel free to join our Facebook group - Saint Katharine's Mothers of Young Children - to get more information on meetups and events.

H.O.P.E. Leader this Week – (Group 8)

Gail Dillon 610-688-0533

“8 O’Clock at Wayne” Group

Weekly A.A. meetings are held in St. Katharine’s Parish Center on Friday nights at 8:00 pm.

Clothing Drive

Every second Sunday of the month, our parish provides a collection point for used clothing, housewares and furniture in good condition for a thrift shop in North Philadelphia. The thrift shop sells these items and distributes the proceeds to area churches to help them fund their mission outreach work. Please place your used clothing, housewares and furniture in good condition under the overhang of the Midland Avenue school entrance before 10:00 am on the second Sunday of every month. The next clothing drive is Sunday, August 11th.

Eucharistic Adoration Eucharistic Adoration takes place at St. Katharine’s every Monday from the end of the 8:00 am Mass until Benediction which starts at 4:30 pm and lasts until around 4:45 pm. Spend some quiet time with the Lord. Read the divine words of Our Lord Jesus, meditate, pray or just sit quietly and listen to His words to you. You will leave the church happy and refreshed. Come and visit for as few or as many minutes as you have. You won’t be sorry. This is the best gift that you could ever give yourself.

Gobekli Tepe

Are the oldest archaeological sites in the world the world's first temples?

I recently watched a television program on the National Geographic Channel that caught my attention. It was about Gobekli Tepe, which may be one of the most important archaeological sites in the world and the world's first temple complex. Located in modern Turkey, nine miles northeast of the town of Sanliurfa (formerly Urfa) in southeastern Turkey, this fascinating group of buildings was constructed around 10,000BC, making it the world's oldest known archaeological site. Study of the site indicates that it was used for ritual or religious purposes and it predates the stones of Stonehenge, the much better known ancient worship site, by 7,500 years. Although the local population had long recognized it as a sacred place, excavation on Gobekli Tepe (which in Turkish means "hill of the navel") did not begin until 1994, spearheaded by Klaus Schmidt of the Istanbul branch of the German Archaeological Institute.

The portion of Gobekli Tepe that has been excavated reveals four arrangements of monolithic pillars, each around 16' tall; 43 of these pillars have been unearthed to date. These pillars are linked together by coarsely built stone walls that form a series of circular or rectangular structures. The structures vary in size between 33' and 98' in diameter and have terrazzo floors made of burned lime.

Only about 5% of the site has been uncovered and geophysical surveys indicate that there may be as many as 250 more megaliths still buried, suggesting that another 16 complexes once existed here. Although some of the megalithic stones are blank, others have elaborately carved arachnids, boars, bulls, fowl, foxes, insects, lions, scorpions, snakes and vultures. There are also abstract shapes carved into the stones. Early excavation seems to indicate that there are two of these monumental stones in the center of each structure, surrounded by enclosures and walls, with pillars that may have been used to support roofs.

It is still unknown how these structures were used but scholars speculate that they could have been used for worship; many ancient religions worshiped gods whom they portrayed in animal form. It is also not known why they were preserved but it appears that around 8,000BC, they were deliberately buried under a mountain of soil and settlement refuse, including flints and animal bones, brought in from somewhere else. It appears that those who held these buildings sacred wanted to protect them.

As I reflected on this complex, which was a massive undertaking, I was impressed by the energy humanity has expended throughout history on worship of their gods. So often in the past, humanity worshiped gods and goddesses of their own making. We are so blessed to believe in God who has revealed himself to us and actually come into our midst. It is the one, true God whom we worship.

PARISH ACTIVITIES

Steubenville 2019 is in the books. We had an amazing weekend with these fabulous teens. For five of our teens this was their 2nd, 3rd or 4th Steubenville retreat. For the other nine it was their first one! AMEN! Special "Thanks" to Bill DiClemente and Scott Miller for chaperoning and making the road trip to St. John's with us. It was a weekend of prayer, food trucks, praise and worship, friendship, Mass, speakers, hanging out in dorms, adoration and meeting teens from across the USA! The message for the teens this weekend was "THEY BELONG!"

Charismatic Mass with Healing Service Thursday, August 1st

Starting at 7:00 pm with worship and praise followed by Mass at 7:30 pm. Come with an openness to say "yes" to God's healing.

Father Alex Cauchi will be the celebrant. Father Alex comes all the way from Malta and 40 years in the missions. He replaced Father Grima, who passed away.

Great music by Martha's House. Please contact Paul Hayes at 610-687-8835 if you have any questions.

Gender Matters

Fighting for the Integrity of Persons

Please join Andrew Comiskey and friends as we discover together the compassion and clarity of Jesus for persons facing sexual identity problems. The Father designed us and Jesus redeems us. His redeeming love ushers in the splendid challenge of becoming whole: men and women who are integrating the powers of life and love in our lives, one day at a time.

We want to ignite the church with Spirit-filled, truthful hope so that she may shine bright in this confusing hour. We—His members—can and must make the difference in the lives of loved ones. We begin with our own repentance unto intimate reliance upon Jesus. Join us as we humble ourselves before the Crucified and become good news for seeking hearts.
