ARCHDIOCESE OF PHILADELPHIA

OFFICE of the ARCHBISHOP

June 27, 2021

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Pope Francis recently commended the good work of the Catholic Campaign for Human Development (CCHD), “which is celebrating 50 years of helping poor communities in the U.S. to live more worthily by promoting their participation in decisions that affect them.” The Holy Father explains that the mission of the CCHD is to “accompany people in their struggle for ‘la tierra, el techo y el trabajo’ (land, housing and work), and to stand by them when they encounter attitudes of opposition and contempt.” Francis notes that the economic impacts of the pandemic have made this work “that much more urgent and necessary.”

These words from our Holy Father call us to genuine concern for and relationship with the power and marginalized members of our larger society and local communities. As faithful Catholics, we follow in the footsteps of Jesus, who demonstrated a deep love for the poor and forgotten people of his day. Like Christ, we too must have a heart for those who lack the basic necessities of life which everyone deserves.

With this in mind, I invite your ongoing support of our annual CCHD collection, which will occur at Masses next weekend (July 3-4). As the domestic anti—poverty program of the U.S. Catholic Bishops, CCHD supports community groups to address the root causes of poverty by enabling the most vulnerable members of our community a chance to build a brighter future for themselves and their families. In our country today, over 37 million people are still living in poverty, and Philadelphia ranks highest in poverty amongst the largest U.S. cities, with over 23% of its residents living below the poverty line. Many also suffer from educational deficits, language barriers, substance abuse, incarceration, and health challenges. Through CCHD funding, the following good works were supported in our region last year:

- Catholic immigrants from Africa and Asia attended leadership development retreats and webinars;
- an electronics recycling program trained and hired the formerly incarcerated who struggle to find a job;
- a fresh choice pantry provided free fresh produce, meats and dairy in the Kensington “food desert”;
- an immigration services project provided legal and interpretation services in Southwest Philadelphia;
- a community outreach program provided ESL, GED and SAT classes to poor Norristown residents;
- group homes in Philadelphia supported formerly homeless people in recovery from substance abuse;
- a volunteer mentoring and support network offered long-term support for persons with HIV/AIDS;
- A Philadelphia parish outreach purchased tents and equipment to serve meals outdoors during COVID.

We may not know them personally, but these are not strangers to us. They are our brothers and sisters who need us to stand with them as they strive to achieve living conditions worthy of their inherent God-given human dignity. The annual CCHD Collection next weekend is an opportunity for you to help your neighbors near and far. God bless you for your generous response to this year’s CCHD collection.

Gratefully and with best wishes in Jesus Christ,

Archbishop Nelsen J. Pérez, D.D.
Archbishop of Philadelphia
